Public Comments (were reminded they have 3 minutes)

Lupe Casias: I'm not even going to complain. This Town, and when I got here 25 years ago, it was a ghost town, nothing here. It has turned into this fabulous little Town. Harvest Festival, so many cool comments from so many people. It just reflects the people, the work. Trump said something not too long ago that "If your front door is dirty, so is your kitchen". This little Town is not dirty at all, it looks fantastic, and it shows a lot of hard work and decisions. That's my comment.

Rhonda Graham: Every year September, I'm here to ask for money for Chamber Bucks We have decided to split it up this year 70% for Christmas and remainder for the Summer. Two different colored Emblems. Bold colors for Winter, from November 15th, ending February 28th. And lighter summer colors for Summer from Memorial Day to Labor Day. 30% will benefit families when kids are out of school. Requesting $1,500.00 same as last year.

Rhonda Graham Cont.: We are also going to do on September 27th, a Sedgwick County Wellness Fair at the Hippodrome, so we are inviting...it's not a health fair, it's a wellness fair, bringing in these other resources that we haven't had before. From 10:00 – 2:00. First come first serve lunch. There is a movie afterward, "Inside Out" at the Hippodrome, movie is free, but concessions are not. It is also the last day of the Community Market over at the Stratesky Pavillion.

- There are a couple of puddles at the arena and will plan on working the arena at the end of the week when it dries up.

Mayor's Report: I thought Harvest Festival went really well, and I got a lot of compliments on it, and I want to thank everybody. The boys have been doing a good job. We got the burn pile done again. I talked to Bull about working the arena before it got rock hard.

Board of Trustees

- Traci Colbeck, I think the Harvest Fest went well and was a success. All of the kids made money and are ready to go next year.
- Roger Munson, I was hoping Bull would be here but, to let you guys know, the guy we get to work on our equipment, Bryce, is no longer working on our equipment. He's going to work with a different company.

- Dale Jones, I think Harvest Fest went rather well even with the delay because of the lightning. I went ahead and booked the guys for next year and hopefully High Plainz Strains and Natures are going to donate again. These guys get so booked up you just about have to book them a year ahead of time. It was mentioned that it should still go to a vote of the board. It might cost us a little more, but I think we need to pay some kids to help with the stage breakdown, I'm thinking the football team maybe a couple of hundred dollars to help.
